Prince Cupid Kalamianole, who returned in the Sierra last night, has brought some more animals with him. They are being held at the Oceanic wharf. There is a wallaby, a fine parrot, that can come pretty near carrying on a conversation, and a cage of pigeons. There will probably be no trouble about the pigeons.

Captain J. C. Cluney was run into by a Japanese hack driver at the corner of King and Bethel streets yesterday afternoon. He was picked up bleeding and in a fainting condition and removed to his home in Kailua. It is thought that he has sustained internal injuries. The driver who carelessly caused the accident, was arrested.

Iwanski, a Japanese, was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to ten days' imprisonment at hard labor by Judge Wilcox Tuesday on the charge of cruelty to animals. He was arrested by Officer Hart in the morning. The horse which he was driving had a sore on one of his forelegs that was running with blood. If the man had not been so poor he would have been more heavily fined. He certainly deserved it.

An appeal from the Supreme Court of the Territory to the Supreme Court of the United States in the matter of the income tax, has been definitely decided on. Either W. O. Smith or Abraham Lewis, Jr., will go to Washington early in October to present the appeal. An attempt will be made to have the case put on the October calendar. In the meantime, Tax Assessor Shaw will continue collecting the taxes under the income tax law.

SURGEONS CONFIDENT OF ULTIMATE RECOVERY

Buffalo, Sept. 10.—The result of the morning conference was made known about 9 o'clock, as the doctors came from the house, although it was some time after that that the bulletin appeared. The faces of the doctors clearly indicated their satisfaction at the condition of affairs. As Dr. Roswell Park came to his carriage he paused long enough to give a general survey of the conditions prevailing.

"The condition of the President this morning is entirely satisfactory. He spent the most comfortable night he has had since the shooting. He slept well, and when he was awake he was cheery, and even chatty."

"Do you regard the President as entirely out of danger?" Dr. Park was asked.

"I do not want to go that far. What can be said is that unless there are unexpected complications we expect him to recover."

"Have you considered the prospect of his removal?"

"No; it is too early for that, but when he is moved he probably will go to Washington."

Dr. Herman Myer was the next of the consulting physicians to come from the house. He was followed by Dr. Eugene Wadlin and they walked down the street together. To the queries of the newspaper men Dr. Myer said: "The President is doing splendidly and he is out of the woods, it may express it that way."

"Yes," chimed in Dr. Wadlin, "and he has plenty of daylight behind him."

Dr. Myer said further: "I have never been really optimistic, because I do not like to prejudge serious cases, but now I can say to you that everything in the President's condition warrants the statement that he is on the road to quick recovery."

Dr. Wadlin said: "I have believed throughout that the President had a fair chance of recovery. Now I desire to say that the chances against that recovery are very slight. His temperature is splendid and his pulse is getting normal."

Dr. McBurney was in high spirits as he walked away from the residence shortly after the other physicians had gone. His face was wreathed in smiles.

"Is the President out of danger?" he was asked.

"We believe he is practically out of danger," he replied, measuring his words. Then he paused. "Of course," he added, "there are still possibilities in the case and we will know better when a week has gone by. But his improvement is so marked, his symptoms are so good that we feel safe in assuring the public that he will recover. Blood poisoning might still develop. We could not give a guarantee now, but the chances are remote. As for pritonitis, I consider that the danger from inflammation of the peritoneum has passed."

"Might not an abscess form about the bullet?"

"Yes, of course; the bullet may not be clean, but if it does, we can easily locate and remove it."

"If the President continues to improve and his convalescence is not checked, how soon will the secondary operation for the extraction of the bullet be performed?"

"Never," replied the surgeon. "That piece of lead encased in the muscles of his back will cause no harm. Of course, if it gives him trouble an operation will be performed."

"But you will use the X-ray to locate it?"

He shook his head. "Why should we?" he asked. "To satisfy our curiosity? That would be its only purpose."

Dr. McBurney's supreme confidence in the outcome could not be overated. His manner and bearing all testified to the conviction he felt.

McKINLEY CHEERFUL

Buffalo, Sept. 9.—The President was very cheerful today and expressed confidence in his recovery. It is with some difficulty that he can be restrained from talking, and Colonel M. T. Herrick of Cleveland is quoted as authority for the statement that he has spoken at intervals of several things he proposed to do in the future.

This afternoon he asked to be allowed to change his position and when permission was given, before the attendants could aid him, he changed to a position without pain. He was given nourishment today in the form of eggs beaten in milk. The water, which has been given heretofore cold, did not appear to agree with him, and since last night very hot water has been taken into the stomach through the mouth with splendid results.

RESEARCH CLUB.

The winter meetings of the Research Club will soon be inaugurated. Secretary H. A. Bigelow has sent to the members the following request for information:

1. What general lines of study or discussion and methods of work would you suggest for the club during the season before us?

2. What subjects or lines of study would you be most interested to see the club enter upon?

3. What subjects and available speakers would you care most to listen to?

The circular concludes as follows: "It has been proposed that the subject for discussion at any particular meeting should be treated by a group of five or six members, each speaking not over fifteen minutes. Would you be willing to be one of the group to thus talk upon some subject in which you were interested? Please answer the above questions as fully as possible and return the same to the secretary within one week."
